

The American Conference for Irish Studies – West Regional: JORDAN-POTTS AWARD

The Jordan - Potts Award Competition is an integral part of the annual American Conference for Irish Studies – West Regional meeting.

The ACIS-West offers this award in recognition of and encouragement to emerging scholars, advanced students, or those early in professional careers.

Selection is determined by a committee's judgment as to who delivers the best presentation within a program session of the Denver, 2021, ACIS-West Conference.

Session participants who choose to compete for the Jordan - Potts Award are required to note their eligibility when they respond to the "Call for Papers."

Additionally, the Jordan - Potts Award includes a $500 honorarium and complimentary registration in the 2022 Conference.
